Title: Internal Audit

1. PURPOSE

This Standard Operating Procedure (SOP) describes the process for conducting internal audits to assess compliance with Netramind's internal policies, procedures and applicable regulatory requirements.

2. SCOPE

This procedure applies to all Netramind personnel, contractors and consultants conducting GxP activities relevant to Netramind operations (e.g., clinical data analysis and software systems).

Netramind may delegate some or all the tasks described in this procedure to a contract service provider (CSP) if Netramind has determined the CSP's SOPs are acceptable for use. However, Netramind retains responsibility for those delegated tasks.

This procedure does not apply to external audits (e.g., CSP, investigative sites audits), document audits (e.g., clinical study report audits) which are described in SOP-ABC-123 CSP Audit, SOP-ABC-123 Investigator Site Audit and SOP-ABC-123 CSR Audit.

4. DEFINITIONS

4.1. Audit Observation Classification

4.1.1. Critical—An observation that finds a practice, system, or event to be absent, in failure, or consistently out of compliance with key controls, GCP, and/or Netramind quality requirements. A combination of Major observations that indicate a serious system failure may also be classified as a Critical observation.

4.1.2. Major—An observation that finds a practice, system, or event to be absent, in failure, or consistently out of compliance with major controls, GCP, and/or Netramind quality requirements. A combination of Minor audit observations that indicate a considerable system failure may be classified as a Major observation.

4.1.3. Minor—An observation that finds a practice, system, or condition to be out of compliance with GxP and/or Netramind quality requirements, which may have an acceptable impact to internal processes with respect to Netramind products/ services/ studies but warrants remediation.

4.1.4. Recommendation—An observation of a system that could be optimized but does not violate a regulation. Netramind does not require CSPs to address recommendations, but
